THE

Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party,
But established for the benefit of all.

THURSDAY, MAY 16, 1889.

The annual meeting of the British Benevolent Society will be held on the 24th inst., Her Majesty Queen Victoria's seventieth birthday. On behalf of the executive the request is made that members should pay up all dues to the society before that date.

In to-day's issue appears the full text of the report of Mr. R. W. Meyer, Agent of the Board of Health, on the Molokai leper settlement. The document will give readers at home and abroad something like an adequate idea of the magnitude of this sad charge of the Hawaiian Government.

RIFLES ENCAMPMENT.

The encampment of the Honolulu Rifles, or First Battalion of Hawaiian Volunteers, is a new departure in military training in this kingdom. It is a method that has been adopted with great advantage in other countries for enhancing the efficiency of the militia. The idea is to acquire the young soldier to some extent with the discipline and privations of the field. Two days make, however, but a very limited period for practical usefulness. A week would seem to be the least time in which the men could be expected to gain adequate benefit from all the trouble. That so short a time in camp is allowed the battalion may be taken as evidence of the excellent class of material composing this body of volunteers. They really cannot be spared from their daily avocations without demoralizing the commercial and industrial economies of the city. Even the professional callings and the civil service would be seriously interfered with by the absence of "the boys" from civil duties more than a day. To the community at large the encampment will furnish a fine pretext for enjoying a day's outing amidst the grandest and breeziest scenes of mountain and sea on this island, with the enticing accessories of military drill and music.

HONOLULU HARBOR.

It is only a question of months, probably, when the port of Honolulu will be required to receive larger steamships than now come up to its wharves. Stimulated by threatened competition of first-class vessels of the latest construction, the Oceanic Steamship Company is promising a fortnightly service between San Francisco and the Australian Colonies. If it secures contracts and subsidies for such a service, it will use larger vessels than those of the present line. These great steamers would, under existing conditions, have to lie outside and make communications with the shore by lighters. This process involves expense and inconvenience to the company on the one hand and to the commercial community on the other. Just consider the amount of freight landed here by one of the present steamers from San Francisco, and the quantity of coal taken on board by one of those going through to the south, and the sugar and bananas awaiting the north-bound steamer. Anyone having any idea of the volume of business made by all those items need not be told that the extra expense of intermediate conveyance thereof beyond the reef would be serious. The chances are that unless the expected large liners can have easy access to our docks, they will only call off port for exchange of mails and passengers by tugboat. Perhaps they will give us the go-by altogether for one out of the two trips each month. In view of these and cognate considerations, it is manifest that one of the most important duties of the next Legislature will be the making of liberal provision for the improvement of Honolulu harbor. The bar must be reduced, the bottom of the interior further dredged. When the Alameda was working into dock on her last visit, it was observed that a few strokes of the propeller muddled the water. This showed that the silt constantly washing down from land is raising the bottom. Such being a perpetual process a constant dredging service is essential. If this port is to have a future in keeping with the development of Pacific trade, it must be made capable of giving a reception to the largest steamship at any time afloat. No usual necessity of the nation, indeed, would more fully justify a public loan, in case of insufficient ordinary revenue, than this one of harbor improvement.

THE RIFLES ENCAMPMENT.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—In common with many others I should like very much to pay a visit to the encampment Saturday and Sunday, to see the boys at their camp, but the question is how to get there? It is a long walk from the Tramway terminus at the bridge, and a hack is too expensive a luxury. I should be glad to hear that special busses be put on for the two days. They would be largely patronized.

CITIZEN.

BERETANIA STREET.

The property-owners on Beretania street between Alapai and Punahoa streets have, with two or three exceptions, signed an agreement to donate 10 feet frontage for the proposed widening of that street. This means a ten foot frontage on both sides of the street. If the widening is carried out it will make one of the finest avenues in the city. The street cars will run the entire length, and the call for applications in our By Authority column for the balance of lots for sale on that street should command itself to those desirous of obtaining a nice home within easy access of the town.

A YOUNG BOY IN TROUBLE.

In the Police Court this morning a Chinese-Hawaiian boy named Kaomana, not quite ten years of age, was charged with the larceny of three gold rings, the property of a Chinaman. The boy admitted stealing the rings last September and selling them for twenty-five cents. Shortly afterwards he left for Kona with his father, but the other day turned up in Honolulu at the house of some friends when he admitted the theft. A gold watch and chain were also found on him. He said he took the rings because he wanted them, and knew it was wrong to steal. Sentence was suspended until the 25th, so as to give Deputy Marshal Hopkins time to communicate with his father.

GOVERNMENT LOTS.

The announced sale of Government lots situated on the block bounded by Beretania, Young and Kaaumoku streets, on the Kulaokahua plains, took place at noon today in front of the Government building. Mr. John A. Hassinger, Chief Clerk of the Interior Department, wielding the hammer. Lots A and B fronting on Beretania street and M and N fronting on Young street were knocked down to Mr. J. McGuire at $400 each. Lot C fronting on Beretania street was sold to F. Cary for $400, and lot O fronting Young street to Mrs. Rebecca Akina for $410. Lots P and Q with frontage on Young street were bought by Mr. Andrews for $405 each. A. F. Meiers paid $400 for lot E facing on Beretania street.

Fifteen lots remain unsold for which applications will be received at the Interior Office until further notice. In the above sale the lots were sold with the understanding that ten feet would be taken off along the front line for the proposed widening of Beretania street.

A JURY'S RECOMMENDATION.

The jury drawn to consider the propriety of widening Garden Lane and closing a portion of Union street, or of widening it, has made the following recommendation: We, the undersigned, a jury drawn to decide upon the propriety of widening Garden Lane, and widening or closing a portion of Union street in the district of Honolulu, Island of Oahu, hereby certify that on the 15th day of May, 1889, we examined the location of such proposed improvement, and after due deliberation do hereby decide that the improvement to be made is to close Union street from Beretania street to and as far as the line of the makai side of the British Club lot, and to widen Garden Lane on the lines of the dotted lines as shown on the map hereto attached.

THE ENCAMPMENT.

PRELIMINARY ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE RIFLES BIVOUAC.

A notice appears elsewhere to the members of the first battalion, Hawaiian Volunteers, to report at the Armory, Friday evening, at 6:30 o'clock, for the purpose of marching to the camping grounds. After leaving the Armory and headed by the Hawaiian band the line of march will be along Beretania to Richards street, down Hotel on to Fort and King streets, along King to Punahoa where the band will take the "bus." The volunteers will march the entire distance to the camp. The field and staff will be mounted.

The paraphernalia for the camp equipment will be taken out tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock by a detail in charge of Capt. Chas. Wilder.

On Sunday morning the Rev. Alex. Macintosh will hold divine service at the camp at 11 o'clock. It will consist of morning prayer as in the prayer book of the Episcopal Church. The hymns will be "Guide me, O Thou Great Jehovah," to the tune, Vienna (Russian National Anthem), "All people that on earth do dwell," to the Old Hundred, and "Thou whose Almighty word," to the tune America.
